

The Helen Edison Lecture Series and

the San Diego Public Library present

Diana Eck

Professor of Comparative Religion and Indian Studies,
Harvard University

speaking on

“On Common Ground: A New Look at America's Religious Diversity”

Thursday, January 20th, 2005

7:00 PM UCSD Price Center Ballroom

Free and open to the public • no tickets or reservations required

As part of the celebration of San Diego's religious diversity the Helen Edison Lecture Series in partnership with the San Diego Public Library will present Diana Eck, Harvard University Professor of Comparative Religion and Indian Studies, member of the Department of Sanskrit and Indian Studies and the Faculty of the Divinity, and author of 6 books.

Since 1991 Diana Eck has been heading a research team at Harvard to explore the new religious diversity in the US and its meaning for the America pluralist experiment known as "The Pluralism Project".

Eck and her team have been documenting the growing presence of Muslim, Buddhist, Hindu, Sikh, Jain, and Zoroastrian communities in the United States. In her new book "A New Religious America" Eck addresses the questions of Christian faith in a world of many faiths and the challenges that the US faces with issues of the new religious diversity that is now ours. Please join us on January 20th for this prize winning author whose work reflects a significant breakthrough in our understanding of religion.

THE CITY OF SAN DIEGO

Please enter campus at Gilman Drive. Parking is $3.00 after 4:30 p.m.

For additional information call: (858) 822-0510

email: emunk@ucsd.edu or visit: www.helenedison.ucsd.edu

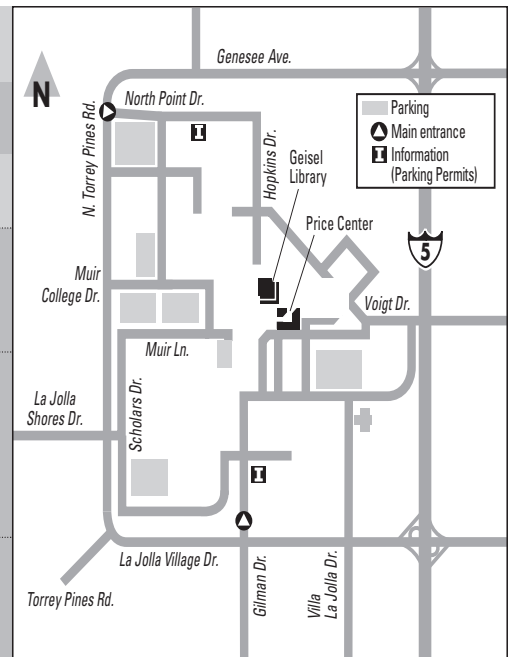

WI05-3040

Please enter the UCSD campus at Gilman Drive

Parking is $3.00 after 4:30 p.m.

For additional information
Call (858) 822-0510 or email
emunk@ucsd.edu

The San Diego Public Library and
The Helen Edison Lecture Series present

Diana Eck

Professor of Comparative Religion and Indian Studies, Harvard University

UCSD

Helen Edison
Lecture Series

University of California, San Diego
UCSD Extension, Dept. 0176-0
9500 Gilman Dr.
La Jolla, CA 92093-0176

